

MORNING TIME

We all need some encouraging words, and what better way to start the day than with some affirmation. Focus on being there for your kids as an encouraging coach. Words that help instill purpose and confidence can be in the form of a note on a toothbrush once a week, or a "Way to go!" delivered over cereal. We think it's the most important part of a balanced breakfast.

Tripp Daily's Biblical Travel

reminds you to rent your camel early. We cannot guarantee dromedary availability once you arrive at any of our Biblical Travel resort areas. Two humped camels are reserved for large families or groups. All of our camels have passed a two point inspection and have reasonably low mileage.

"The commandments I give you today must be in your hearts. Make sure your children learn them. Talk about them when you are at home.

(Meal Time)

Talk about them when you walk along the road.

(Drive Time)

Speak about them when you go to bed.

(Bed Time)

And speak about them when you get up."

Deuteronomy 6:6-7

There's often a rhythm to life no matter what is going on around us. For each family, that may look different. If we allow that rhythm to remind us to invest in each other, then over time, we will more than likely have stronger, more meaningful relationships. When you allow the things you already do to have a purpose in your kid's life, then you make an investment that will follow them as they grow stronger and wiser.

Want a cue or prompt each week to make the most of these moments? Download the Parent Cue app, available for both iOS and Android.

In this Guide, we are featuring some great ways for kids and parents to enjoy adventures together by doing what you are already doing!

Make your everyday moments matter with some cues to make the most of them.

MEAL TIME

Focus a discussion during one meal each week. It doesn't matter if you are sitting at a table or on your way to a practice. Ask an open-ended question that creates a great discussion for the whole family. Make sure everyone answers—including you!

THE EXODUS PACKAGE

Take the entire family on an extended (very extended) trip around the wilderness! Enjoy the warm sand in the morning, amazing Rock formations all day, cool sand at night, and of course hot sand while you walk.
Limited menu of quail, water, and manna available.

DRIVE TIME

Whether you are driving or using some other kind of transportation, everyone has to get from one place to another for various things. So while on the go, some of the best conversations happen in those moments when there is no agenda, there is no plan, but there is time to listen to what is truly on your heart. Use this time to connect to your child and get to know who they are and what they think about life at this age and phase.

BED TIME

Bed time can be that peaceful moment we see in books and movies, or it can be an absolute circus. No matter what bed time looks like at your house, it's a great time to pray together about the concerns of the day and the anticipations about tomorrow.
